Pitchers' Battle Until Seventh Inning, When Cole Began to Weaken.

FAST PLAYING THROUGHOUT

Visitors Leave To-day for Lexington, Where They Play Washington and Lee.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) CHARLOTTESVELLE, VA., March 27.-The tables were turned to-day, West Vir-sinia, defeating Virginia 4 to 2.

The contest was very similar to that of Saturday, in that for seven innings the was almost perfect and but couple of hits were made. It was a battle of the twirters, both Gronninger and Cole performing well. In the eighth, Cole began to weaken and found difficulty Cole performing well. In the eighth, Cole began to weaken and found difficulty in locating the plate. McCarthy was hit by a pitched ball but was forced out at second, Strickler going to second on Jones's wild throw to first in an attempt to complete double. Hertzler then sent an easy one to short, but the ball took a bad bound just before reaching Graiam, allowing Strickler to tie the score. After getting two strikes on the next balsman, tole insade a wild pitch, Hertzler scoring from second. Another wild pitch witch went clear to the backstop afforded opportunity for the West Virginia captain, Cole, to romp home with another run. In her half of the eighth the Orange and Blue made a strenuous effort to tie the score. Pollard was safe on Mason's serror, advanced two bases on a fielder's choice and counted on Council's long fity to the running track in the right field good for three sacks. Council was left at third, however, Danlel going out, Strickler to Hertzler.

West Virginia added one run in the ninth, Wayman landing on Cole for a two bager and secring on two errors in the Virginia in-field. Jones, for Virginia, started off the ninth with a clean single to center, which the West Virginia captain allowed to get through his egs. He tried to complete the circuit of the bases on the error, but was caught at the out in order.

as ever, James J. Jeffries, champion puglist of the world, arrived in this city from Anapplis yeath-day. After his arrival he went a boxer, but that it might help a policeman to a nozer, but that it might stick or pistol. But if he were a policeman, Jeffries says, he would prefer the company of the big stick to an intimate knowledge of jiu jitsu. He will not nagae in a contest of this kind, because he is traid he might seriously injure his opponent.

int.

He lyinks jiu jitsu is all right for exercising urposes, but impracticable for defense or attack. Its chief fault, he believes, is in the fact that one must be in a set position and was his opponent practically at his mercy in due to accomplish good results. Boxers, he links have a decided advantage over jiu tau artists, for they can hit a man effectively om almost any angle.
